

If these chairs could speak!

I've heard many a ghost story from the people who sat on me.
Could you write a story that would send shivers down my back?

If objects could speak, what stories could they tell?

Imagine you were one of these chairs. Why don't you have a go at writing a story about what they have seen and heard?

Here's some ideas to get you thinking.

I'm a very comfy chair and love to sit by the fire in the croft house.

Describe what the room looks like and the smells around me.

The wood that made me was found washed ashore. Was I part of a shipwreck? Describe my journey.
